BONAR LAW KEPT BUSY
SORTING MANY ELIGIBLES

Plans of Berritt Premier Uncertain, But Fighting Spirit Runs High.

LONDON, October 20.—Premier Berritt's Bonar Law in a message to the newspapers this afternoon says: "If I am elected the leader of the conservative party I may be in a position to advise the king to order immediately the dissolution of parliament. This would give plenty of time to get the Irish house rule bill through."

LONDON, October 20.—Andrew Bonar Law appeared to be making rapid progress today in forming a cabinet to replace the fallen coalition government. This was evidenced by the announcement that Marquis Curzon and the Earl of Derby, both men of influence and experienced cabinet ministers, have agreed to serve under him in any capacity. Mr. Bonar Law cannot officially announce the formation of his ministry until he is elected head of the unionist party to succeed Austen Chamberlain but it is generally conceded that this election will be only a formality.

Although the split in the unionist ranks has deprived him of such cabinet material as Mr. Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead, the Earl of Balfour and some lesser lights, political experts believe Mr. Bonar Law will find plenty of timely aid among the younger members of the party who have shown promise in the political field and to make good advancement at a favorable moment.

Bury Seeking Eligibles.
The premier-designate was busy seeking out eligibles at an early hour today. His secretary declared he is in good health again and ready to "buckle to" the work which lays before him. Certainly he is giving every evidence of his old intense energy, though whether he is strong enough to stand the long hard strain of office is doubtful.

Meanwhile Mr. Lloyd George, bereft of his rank as prime minister, but still giving evidence of retaining the full force of his old vigor and fighting spirit which have characterized his thirty-odd years of political life, was making his way to the "into the wilderness" with those of his comrades who had remained faithful to him during the stormy days of the coalition government.

Political Caudron Seething.
The political caudron in England is seething as the country has not seen it in long years, and none today was handsy enough to predict what brew would emerge from the strange mixture that was cooking. But what- ever fate might have in store, it was certain Mr. Lloyd George was entering a stage of his career which would call for all his skill and craft. It was equally certain that he would prove to be a leader in the new era of the coming battles, as there are admittedly few men in the country who could match his mastery of the art of politics as he.

The unionists, the liberals and the laborites alike are seething and working intensely in an attempt to solve the problem confronting them. The explosion of the cabinet is a story that has been in the air for some time. It is a story that has been in the air for some time. It is a story that has been in the air for some time.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, October 20.—The government's policy toward the British debt to the United States will remain unchanged, regardless of who may be the next chancellor of the exchequer, it was emphasized today in official circles.
One thing that is certain is that Sir Robert Horne, who was chancellor of the exchequer in the Lloyd George cabinet, will not head the British mission to Washington to discuss the war debt. He was scheduled to sail about October 30, but it generally is conceded that his successor will not be able to leave by that time.
Whether the new chancellor of the exchequer will go to Washington is problematical. It was intimated in official circles that if America is in a hurry to get on with the negotiations.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, October 20.—The near eastern peace conference date has been tentatively set for November 13 at Lausanne. The preliminary conference which it had been proposed to hold today in London was abandoned after France had refused to approve of London as the meeting place.
Whether the conference proper will have to be further delayed depends upon the British political situation. France is urging the necessity of holding the meeting as soon as possible, because the Turks are becoming daily more restless, officials say, and will not regard the allied promises as definite until the peace meeting is actually under way.

SULTAN'S ENVOYS SNUBBED.
Military Governor of Thrace Openly
Insults Callers.

By the Associated Press.
CONSTANTINOPLE, October 20.—The sultan's government has been soundly snubbed by the first dignitary of the Turkish nationalist government to arrive here since Mustafa Kemal Pasha's army consolidated the strength of the Ankara government by its victory over the Greeks. Raza Pasha, military governor of Thrace, upon his arrival at the Istanbul residence yesterday, found waiting there official representatives of the nationalist movement and the ministry of the interior.

Knows No Grand Visitor.
The representative sent in his card first. The sabbay little general smoothed out the wrinkles in his official manner, and said: "Who is this person? I know of no grand visitor; there is no such office or official."
Next came the envoy, whose card stated that he represented "Field Marshal Ali Riza Pasha, minister of the interior." Again Raza assumed his official air.

"I'm sure I don't know any such person," he again announced. "I remember an amiable Turkish gentleman, but I am not sure I can certainly know of nobody occupying such a position in the Turkish government."
Meanwhile a third envoy had been cooling his heels uneasily in the waiting room. He was a distinguished personage, namely a member of the sultan's own household who was the sultan's personal representative of the sultan to bid the military governor an official welcome.

Third Envoy Flees.
When he heard the report of the other two envoys, however, he was seized with panic at the awkward predicament which might result for himself and master if the same treatment were meted out to him. So he quietly tucked his card in his pocket and slipped back to the Yildia Palace.
Thus ended the effort of the sultan's government to obtain recognition from the powerful visiting delegation from Ankara.

Plans of Future.
The spirit which the Turkish people have shown has excited the admiration of the entire world. When our country was threatened, the whole people took up arms voluntarily and eagerly; there is no conscription in Turkey nor any necessity for it.
"Today Turkey is no more divided; the nation is one. History has recorded our military success—now what of the future? There is still a long task before us and it is work for our younger men. It is the upbuilding of our country to economic prosperity."
"We have won our full freedom and nobody can take it from us. Henceforth Turkey will be purely Moslem and can make its own without let or hindrance from the outside. Our independence is no longer consolidated. The foreign power can take it away or tamper with it."

Appeals After Verdict of Guilty as Operator of
"Doherty's Club."

IS SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Operated.

Edward (Eddie) Waters, charged jointly with James M. Doherty with managing and conducting a gambling den, known as "Doherty's Club," near the Alexandria corporation line, was convicted today in the Arlington county police court by Judge William C. Gloth and sentenced to six months in the county jail.
Attorney Carl Budwey of Alexandria, Waters' attorney, noted an appeal, which was granted by Judge Gloth. He will be given a hearing on the appeal before Judge Samuel G. Brent, in the Arlington county circuit court, next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Doherty Case Postponed.
Because he is sick Doherty did not appear at the courthouse for the trial, and his case was postponed until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Attorney Budwey, who also represents Doherty, submitted to the court a statement signed by Dr. Walter A. Warfield, declaring that Doherty is ill and not able to stand trial.

When arraigned before Judge Gloth Waters, through his counsel, entered a plea of not guilty. The customary efforts of the defense to have the case dismissed on account of a technicality were overruled. Attorney Budwey intended that there was nothing in the warrant against Waters to show that he was interested in receiving a "rake off" or profits in the gambling alleged to have been conducted at "Doherty's Club."

Paraphernalia in Court.
Gambling paraphernalia seized by the county officers when they raided Doherty's place last Monday morning was placed in the courtroom in front of the judge's bench. It included dice, dice cups, cards, poker chips, two green baize cloths, containing all the numbers and combination of numbers on a pair of dice and odds on certain figures.
These cloths, which were found under a pillow on an upper floor of the alleged gambling club, witnesses testified, were the ones which covered the two dice tables in the place.

Exhibition in Court.
For the benefit of the court and the spectators a demonstration of the method of playing the dice tables was given. The prosecution's principal witness, gave a demonstration of how the game is played. Wise used one of the green layout cloths, the dice and other paraphernalia taken from Doherty's to give his illustration. The court officers, who were present, watched with intense interest.

Wise testified that with several newspaper men, he went to Doherty's place last Sunday night and there played the dice game, winning a small sum of money. At that time Wise said there were between 200 and 400 men in the place, crowded around the two dice tables, engaged in the games.
Some Stood Sideline.
"The crowd was so large," he said, "that some of the men were forced to stand aside and watch the game. The tables to place their bets near the action. The crowd was so large that some of the men were forced to stand aside and watch the game. The tables to place their bets near the action."

A reporter for The Evening Star, one of the men who accompanied Wise on his visit to Doherty's, substantiated his story. He said that he saw the dice game being played. He also testified that there were at least twenty gamblers in the place. He said that he saw the dice game being played. He also testified that there were at least twenty gamblers in the place.

Court Imposes Minimum.
In his argument before the court Commander in Attorney Frank L. Ball recommended that upon conviction Waters should be given the maximum penalty of twelve months in the county jail. The court, however, imposed the minimum of six months. Before releasing Waters his bond was increased to $10,000. It was furnished by R. C. Burnett of Alexandria, his original bondsmen.

Searched for Apparatus.
At the time of the raid on Doherty's, Special Officer Bruce Smith recommended that upon conviction Waters should be given the maximum penalty of twelve months in the county jail. The court, however, imposed the minimum of six months. Before releasing Waters his bond was increased to $10,000. It was furnished by R. C. Burnett of Alexandria, his original bondsmen.

It was indicated at the White House today, following the cabinet meeting, that the recent ruling of Attorney General Daugherty regarding shipping of foreign liquor within the three-mile limit of the United States will not apply for the present to the island possessions of the country.
The matter was discussed at some length in the cabinet session and it was learned afterward that it is the opinion of the executive and his advisers that the Daugherty ruling, so far as it applies to the islands, should be held in abeyance until the Supreme Court has rendered its decision covering the entire matter.

NEW BRUNSWICK, October 20.—That the last link in a carefully welded chain of evidence in the Hall-Mills murder case is being forged today is definitely assured following the announcement that Barbara Tough, servant at the Hall house, has been summoned again for questioning by Prosecutors Beckman and Strickrath. Information to this effect is semi-official.

This is the second time that the maid has been called for a quizing. She was one of those who was questioned with Mrs. Hall two days ago, when three members of the Hall family were closeted with the prosecutors for three hours.
It is definitely understood that Prosecutor Strickrath of Middlesex county, in which New Brunswick is located, will lay his evidence on the table and demand action by Prosecutor Beckman of Somerset county, which adjoins Middlesex, and in which the spot where the bodies were found is located, just north of the boundary of the county border, in Somerset county.

Papers Reported Missing.
Missing papers, contradictory stories about private papers of Dr. Hall and the announcement that Florence North, self-retained attorney of the Mills family, was still their legal representative, were the features today of the New Jersey murder mystery which has surrounded the slaying of Dr. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills more than a month ago.

Despite the statement yesterday that Edwin Carpenter, cousin of Mrs. Hall, had removed from the Hall house, information directly to the contrary was received today. This information may disclose the weak link of a strongly welded chain that has been barrier to investigation of the tragedy, since, as we have stated, it was when she went to the Mills home on the afternoon of the slaying that she was questioned by the police.

"No Word About Vestments."
He told her, she says, that his wife and Edward Carpenter had gone to the church to "get some private papers of Dr. Hall."
"Not a word was said about vestments," declared Miss Ople. "The car used by Carpenter and I saw when they came back to the house, was a small one like a Ford coupe."

Carpenter denies ever having taken any papers from the Hall home or from the church on that afternoon. He said he went after vestments and that he brought them to the undertaking establishment.
John V. Hubbard, the undertaker, is not sure whether it was on Saturday or Sunday that he got the vestments and paraffin from Carpenter. He said he saw Carpenter take papers out of the Hall home on the afternoon of the discovery of the bodies and that he saw Carpenter take papers out of the Hall home on the afternoon of the discovery of the bodies.

MISS MILLS QUESTIONED.
Charlotte Mills was seen in her kitchen this morning. She was ironing a skirt. Florence North was there. At first she did not even look at the newspaper men. She did not open her mouth to reply to even three short questions.
"Were Mr. and Mrs. Clarke and Mr. Strickrath here?" she asked.

MOB BREAKS IN JAIL,
2 PRISONERS LYNCHED
By the Associated Press.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., October 20.—Two men, recently convicted of manslaughter in Benton county last February, were taken from the county jail at Camden early this morning and shot to death in a vacant lot 200 yards from the jail.
The prisoners, Ed Hartley and his son, were held in connection with the murder of Connie Hartley, nephew of Ed Hartley.

News from Camden is that the mob, numbering from twenty-five and thirty men, with faces blanched, overpowered Sheriff E. C. Flowers, took the Hartleys from jail and riddled them with bullets. Throughout the mob is said to have proceeded in an orderly manner.
At the time of the killing of Connie Hartley last February, his father, John Hartley, was seriously wounded, being at death's door for several days. The Hartleys were taken to the Benton county circuit court for a new trial. At the time of the trial Ed Hartley, son of Ed Hartley, and his son, were acquitted of the charge.
This was the first case of mob law in Benton county's history.
